These animal lovers have brought attention to animals around the world. Connect each animal lover to the correct facts.

I grew up on my parents' wildlife park in Australia.

When I was ten years old, I took a voyage across the Atlantic and fell in love with ships!

I grew up in England, and from a young age, I was fascinated by animal behavior.

I helped my father trap crocodiles when I was a child.

I was a pioneer of new techniques for diving, breathing, and filming underwater.

When I was twenty-six, I visited Africa and studied chimpanzees in their natural habitat.

I made scuba diving a popular, adventurous pastime in the 1950s.

I died when I was attacked by a stingray while filming a documentary.

I founded an institute in 1977 to raise awareness and understanding about the treatment of chimpanzees around the world.
